The Department of Education is committed to providing a high quality education programs for ALL students. Some students experience problems that impact on their learning at school. There may be many reasons why a student does not meet the expected performance levels for their age/grade level. Research has found that early identification of at0rist students and the provision of specific educational interventions can assist struggling students in meeting expected performance levels.

The Department of Education has a Child Assistance Team (CAT) in each school to help students who are experiencing learning difficulties. The CAT is responsible for gathering information concerning students who are experiencing learning difficulties and developing Intervention Plans to help assist the student. The CAT can also refer a child to special education for further evaluation if needed.

The child identified above is being referred to the CAT for the following areas of concern:
